A hymn's long journey

The beloved hymn "How Great Thou Art" came together across many years and miles. In 1885, when Swedish preacher Carl Boberg wrote a poem titled "O, Great God," he probably never dreamed he'd hear it performed years later to an old Swedish tune. Or that a Russian version would impact Stuart Hine, an English missionary to Poland, several decades later. Hine penned his own English version, resulting in the now-familiar lyrics.

From "the rolling thunder" echoing off the Carpathian Mountains, to the "woods and forest glades" of Romania, to powerful conversions to Christianity, Hine was inspired to craft each verse. Sometimes the Holy Spirit takes time to complete a work, and that journey is as important as the destination.

WARDEN'S WORDS

A Book Review

Recently, I had opportunity to read a thought provoking book as a partial requirement in anti-racism training for becoming a Worship Leader. The book, Made for Goodness, and Why This Makes All the Difference, was written by Desmond Tutu and his daughter, who is also a reverend, Mpho Tutu. Here is a review of the book:

According to Archbishop Desmond Tutu and his daughter, Mpho Tutu, we live out our goodness when we answer the call to "wholeness." Wholeness, they say, is flourishing for oneself and others and it is extended to each of us as God's good, beautiful, and perfect creations. It is an attitude that does not pretend to be perfect or flawless, but rather a realization and knowing that one is created in the image of God and is loved and accepted as is. Nothing more is needed or required of us. As sisters and brothers, our true nature is to be like the divine creator in benevolence and compassion.

Godly perfection or wholeness is tied up in the multifaceted concept of "Ubuntu." This African concept expresses the notion of the interconnectedness of all our humanities. It suggests that I must live my life in ways that insure that others may live well. For instance, we are increasingly becoming aware of the depletion of natural resources and its effect on neighboring people and posterity. We are then encouraged to act in accordance with our own decisions and actions.

We have the freedom to choose because of our creation and divine likeness. We are invited and ultimately respond with the course of our lives – a daily examination of conscience, if you will. We must inculcate right choices in our daily living through following example of other Godly people's lives, and hearing and seeing God in everyday life through prayer and meditation.

The authors continue with illustrations of wholeness and its malformation. Some malformations of wholeness include anxiety—trying to reach an elusive mark of perfection; greed and hoarding of material things – these states are rooted in fear as well; and pride. According to the authors, we get in the habit of making wrong choices and these choices can lead to malformation and unwholesome living.

NEWS FROM THE MINISTRIES

STEWARDSHIP

from "God's Stewards, Trust & Share" Office of Stewardship, Episcopal Church Center, 1994

Recycle

It takes half a million trees to produce our Sunday newspapers, 88 % of which are NOT recycled. It's time to stress recycling in our communities, every way we can.

Some ideas:

- If there is no recycling in your community, locate the nearest recycling center. Bundle papers, and encourage others to do the same. Have a recycle day at church.
- Volunteer a few hours of your time at the local recycling operation. If there isn't one in your community, why not start one?
- Look for the word "recycled" on paper products. Ask area businesses and organizations whether they recycle their papers. If they don't, encourage them to do so.
- Encourage conservation and recycling practices in your congregation. Young folks really enjoy getting involved in this kind of project. Ask your kids or grandkids what they think.

Out of the ground the Lord God made to grow every tree that is pleasant to the sight and good for food...
Genesis 2:9

Clothes Closet needs donations of men's clothes, toys, books, and CDs/DVDs.

Clothing Closet

Sunday Supper

Our free community meals ministry is in full swing! Attendance is up now that the weather is nicer. We had 50 people come in for our April meal, and that number climbed to 58 for May. With second helpings and take-outs we have been serving 65 to 75 delicious meals.

We continue to advertise the meals with a monthly flyer. Bradley and others distribute the flyers at the clothes closet and throughout the community. We are hoping for another great turn-out for our Father's Day meal on June 18th.

Many thanks to all who have volunteered--and continue to volunteer! We now have plans in place for our July through September meals. And, of course, we always need additional volunteers! So check the white-board and see if you want to add your name to help with a meal.

CECX is providing an important service with this ministry, meeting and serving the needs of our neighbors and local community. Please email me if you have any ideas or suggestions for this ministry. Any and all ideas welcomed and appreciated!

Feed the hungry...and help those in trouble. Then your light will shine out from the darkness...and the darkness around you will be as bright as noon. Isaiah 58:10

Children's Corner

For those who are young, those who think they are young, those who feel young at heart, and those who aren't any of the above (nobody's looking... Have some fun!)

Make this heartwarming handprint gift to give your dad or another special man on Father's Day.

What you need:

- Tempura paint (any two colors besides white)
- A paper plate
- Two paintbrushes
- Your dad's hand
- White cardstock
- Paper towels
- A pen

What you do:

1. Place paint on the paper plate.
2. Paint your dad's palm and the insides of his fingers with one color of paint. Set his hand in the center of the cardstock and press down. Let dry.
3. Paint your palm and fingers with the other color. Place your hand in the center of your dad's. Let dry.
4. Write a loving message to your dad on the blank sections of the cardstock.
5. Give your dad the gift — and a hug!

Our heavenly Father

Father's Day is the perfect time to remember God, our heavenly Father. What does the psalmist say about him?

Directions: Complete Psalm 89:26 by placing the correct vowels in the blanks.

"H_ w_ll c_ll _ _ t t_ m_,

'Y_ _ _ r_ m_ F_th_r, m_

G_d, th_ R_ck m_ S_v_ _r.'" "

Ps_lm 89:26, N_V

"He's using the devotional we gave him for Father's Day."

Answer: "He will call out to me, 'You are my Father, my God, the Rock my Savior.'" Psalm 89:26, NIV

The "Trinitarian formula" occurs only once in the Bible. In which New Testament book do we read "in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit," and who said these words?

- A. Romans; Paul
- B. 1 Peter; Simon Peter
- C. The Acts of the Apostles; Luke
- D. Matthew; Jesus

Answer: D (See Matthew 28:19.)
